

FIFS, AIGF and EGF Jointly Adopt the 'Code Of Ethics' to Promote Responsible Gaming Practices and user safety

The Code of Ethics will apply to all online gaming operators who are members of the federations and offer skill-based real-money gaming services in India.

The Federations will conduct annual audits led by an independent third party to assess adherence to established regulations and guidelines.

The Code of Ethics will be reviewed annually to ensure its effectiveness and compliance with industry and global best practices

XX February/ March, 2025: In a significant step towards promoting safe and responsible gaming, the All India Gaming Federation (AIGF), the Federation of Indian Fantasy Sports (FIFS), and the E-Gaming Federation (EGF), today jointly signed a Code of Ethics (CoE). The CoE is aimed at enforcing consistent standards of user safety across the industry through the implementation of responsible gaming and advertising policies and mandates annual third-party audits and comprehensive reporting mechanisms to ensure accountability and transparency.

The CoE has been created based on global best practices and lays down a strong framework for responsible gaming such as age-gating, adopting stringent KYC and enabling user-set spending limits & self-exclusion. It will apply to all online gaming operators who are members of the federations and offer skill-based real-money gaming services in India. Gaming operators with an annual revenue of INR 100 crores or more will have to implement the Code within six months from the date of signing, while those with annual revenues below INR 100 crores will have nine months to comply. Upon successful adoption, federations will issue a certification valid for one year which shall be renewable annually upon completion of a third-party independent audit. The Code will be reviewed annually to assess its effectiveness and identify areas for improvement.

Key Principles of the Code of Ethics:

- Responsible Gaming Practices: Age gating, no operations in restricted states, and robust KYC mechanisms.
- Player Protection: Safeguarding data, appropriate management of player funds.
- Fair Gaming Practices: Ensuring integrity and fairness in gameplay.
- Transparency: Providing clear and accurate information to players.
- Informed Decision-Making: Enabling players to make well-informed decisions with options to self-exclude and set limits
- Support for Vulnerable Players: Tools and resources for identifying and assisting at-

- risk players.
- Responsible Advertising: Ethical advertising and promotions.

Roland Landers, CEO, All India Gaming Federation said, “As the largest and oldest industry association, we at AIGF believe that a thriving gaming industry must be built on the pillars of responsibility, transparency, innovation, and player protection. This Code of Ethics reinforces our commitment to fair play, compliance with Indian laws, and fostering a secure and responsible gaming environment. Through collaboration with other industry federations, we are setting new benchmarks for ethical gaming, strengthening the credibility of India’s online gaming sector, and building a sustainable, globally competitive ecosystem.”

Commenting on this initiative, Neil Castelino , Director General, FIFS said, "This joint code marks a significant step forward in our commitment to fostering a safe, fair, and responsible gaming environment in the country. By working together as an industry, we are setting a unified standard that prioritizes player well-being, integrity, and accountability across the industry. This we believe will be pivotal in ensuring a safe environment for xx gamers in the country."

Anuraag Saxena, CEO of EGF said, “National interest, consumer interest, and the industry’s interest have all suffered too long. Unethical gaming operators have been parasitically harming the nation, its exchequer, and its people. I’m delighted that the industry is collaborating on the joint code-of-ethics today. The adoption of these standards reinforces our commitment to accountability through third-party audits, responsible gaming policies, and ethical business practices. Sunlight is the best disinfectant, and this code will ensure that gaming is finally responsible.”

The signing of the CoE follows a joint MoU signed by the three federations with ASCI to address the growing concern over illegal betting and gambling advertisements by offshore entities and highlights the proactive steps that the industry is taking to ensure user safety.
